TRANSITING

DUBAI CREEK TO AL JADAF

There are two ways to transit the creek. From the South Entrance or the North Entrance (locally known as the Coastguard side.) The unofficial VHF channel for the creek is VHF CH14, no one follows any rules or uses the VHF. It will be good practice to monitor VHF Ch16 and Ch14 while you transit.

The average depth of the creek from the northern side to the Creek Basin is 7m. A vessel with a draft up to 4m would be able to transit the creek safely. A good rule to keep in mind is "Stick to the middle of the creek"

Al Maktoum Bridge (Lifting bridge)

Opens for transiting vessels:

Thursday morning Approx. 0100
Sunday morning Approx. 0100

When you see the police vehicle arrive this is an indication the process will begin shortly. The bridge does not have a fixed duration for staying open. Basically as soon as the traffic clears it closes.

There is a green light to the STBD side that will go green once the bridge is fully open. This bridge has +- a 12m gap to pass through. Please be aware of the tide as a current of up to 2kts can be experienced.

Floating Bridge (Pontoon bridge)

In the center of the bridge, is a hydraulically driven swing gate.

Chantooth Bridge

16 metres (52.5 ft) Air draft fixed concrete installations with safe passage marked with lights and signs on the actual bridge

Business Bay Bridge

Fifth bridge air clearance of height of 16 metres (52.5 ft)
This area is very well lit at night and more spacious than the rest of the creek

Anchoring (Near Jadaf)

The middle of the creek has an average depth of 7m with mud as a holding ground. The creek basin is deeper nearer to the W - NW side closer to the Al Jaddaf yard between 8 -10m
